

CYNTHIA STACKHOUSE

MANAGER OF HUMAN RESOURCES

EDUCATION

University of Connecticut
Bachelors
Human Development & Family Studies

University of New Haven
Masters
Industrial Organizational Psychology

CERTIFICATION

Society for Human Resource Management
Certified Professional (SHRM-CP)

Cynthia, Human Resources Manager at Associated Construction Company (ACC), brings a decade of rich experience that spans both the nonprofit and corporate worlds. Since joining ACC in September 2022, she has seamlessly integrated into the company's fabric, employing her vast expertise in a strategic alliance with the leadership team. Their collective goal? To ensure the mission and vision of ACC are bolstered by an efficient and harmonious workforce.

Born and raised in Connecticut, Cynthia's academic pursuits have been as impressive as her professional journey. She obtained her Bachelor's Degree in Human Development & Family Studies from the University of Connecticut. Not stopping there, Cynthia further honed her skills by pursuing a Master's Degree in Industrial Organizational Psychology from the University of New Haven.

Cynthia's innate ability to humanize the often-technical aspects of human resources sets her apart. Whether it's recruitment, performance management, training, benefits administration, or payroll, Cynthia believes in the power of people. She passionately dedicates herself to streamlining processes, making the complex appear deceptively simple.

Cynthia is working towards obtaining her SHRM-CP certification, a further testament to her dedication to continuous learning and staying abreast of the latest in HR practices.

Away from the home office of ACC, Cynthia is a devoted family woman. Residing in Shelton, Connecticut, with her supportive husband and two lovely daughters, she cherishes the moments spent outdoors with her near and dear ones.

In Cynthia, one finds a rare blend of professional acumen and personal warmth. She inspires many in her field with her positive outlook on life, continuously demonstrating that one can make a mark with passion and perseverance.